More Stringent Laws Urged in Detective Captain's Appeal

Auto Thefts Last Year Totaled $2,084,415 Here

Last year's record of auto thefts in this city, as compiled by Captain Souder, of the Detective Bureau: Automobiles stolen 2860 Valued at $2,084,415 Automobiles recovered 2384 Valued at $2,057,007

For January and February of this year the record stands: Automobiles stolen 421 Valued at $451,849 Automobiles recovered 293 Valued at $352,195

Captain of Detectives Souder, in a statement today commended Judges McCormick and Henry, upstate jurists, who have been sitting in Quarter Sessions Court here, and declared their speedy and stern dispensing of justice had enabled the police to check and reduce crime, particularly automobile thefts, which had become prevalent. He asserted that inadequacy of the force had hampered police in their efforts to cope with the crime situation and that the severe sentences imposed "saved the situation."

Records of the Detective Bureau show that three weeks ago forty-five automobiles were stolen in one week. In the week preceding last night, only seventeen were stolen, but last night the thieves took seven cars.

421 in Two Months During January and February this year automobile thieves have stolen 421 machines here valued at $451,849. Of these 293 have been recovered by the police. They have been sitting on the Quarter Sessions bench here, we have noticed a great decrease in thefts of automobiles, due to the sentences meted out by the judges. In the week preceding last night, only seventeen were stolen, but last night the thieves took seven cars.

These figures were compiled by Captain of Detectives Souder to prove the necessity for more stringent state laws for the punishment of auto thieves. The Legislature now has three bills under consideration covering the subject and is conducting public hearings to learn public sentiment on the matter. One of the hearings was held yesterday in City Hall. Another will be held next Friday afternoon.

More than 22000 records have been taken for the purpose of being used by Morris Spelner, assistant district attorney. Captain Souder stated that during the year 1918, 2860 automobiles, valued at $2,084,415, were stolen in Philadelphia. Of these 2384, valued at $2,057,007, were recovered by the police.

Before the war," said Edwood C. Chapman, who appeared on behalf of insurance companies, "the insurance rate was about $17, but conditions of late have caused the rates to be increased to $80. Keener of the garage, who has been compelled to keep records of all cars brought to his establishment, if the number has been obliterated, he should be compelled to issue a license. SAVES $2000 IN HOLD-UP Mill Owner's Son Hands Bandit Paper Wallet Instead of Cash

Presence of mind of John L. Best, Jr., son of the owner of the Best Silk Manufacturing Company, 2721 Jaeger street, in handing a bandit a wallet filled with papers when he was held up in his automobile at Seventh and Westmoreland streets, yesterday afternoon, saved more than $2000 which he had obtained from a bank to pay the employee of the plant.

READY FOR WAR WOUNDED Reconstruction Section of General Hospital Complete

Work of fitting up the soldiers' reconstruction section of the Philadelphia General Hospital, thirty-fourth and Pine streets, has been completed and everything is in readiness for the reception of wounded and convalescing men.

Major Bachmeyer, who is in charge of the section, assisted by thirty-five nurses and 235 enlisted men, has arranged, with the War Department the details as to how the men are to be brought there and when and where they will arrive. There are accommodations for between 400 and 500 patients.

It is planned to have all Philadelphia soldiers who can be taken care of from this state who are wounded and are still in need of treatment, to be brought to the reconstruction hospital so that they can be near their

Mysterious Escape, With Use of False Key, Revealed in Paris

By the Associated Press Paris, March 1.—While the newspapers of the United Kingdom are still speculating over the mysterious escape from Lincoln prison in England of Edward de Valera, the Sinn Fein leader, the manner in which it was effected on February 3 has become known here. It was related by Sean O'Connell, the prominent Sinn Feiner, who is here acting the Peace Conference to recognize the "provisional government of the Irish republic," having crossed the Channel on a passport secured by a subterfuge.

Because of De Valera's importance the escape was maintained upon the prison, and where he was twelve comrades were jailed it was most difficult to get word to De Valera concerning his escape.

After the general elections the first meeting of the Republican members of the Irish Parliament was held January 7, and another a week later, at which the prisoners were released. A committee was appointed to take charge of the question of their release. The first result of that committee's activity was the escape of De Valera.

'Tipped Off' in Gaelic Song "The first move was to communicate with De Valera, which was very difficult, because the Sinn Feiner started working on a garden plot near the prison. He attracted De Valera's attention one day by singing Sinn Fein songs in Gaelic, which he told the leader an attempt would be made to rescue him.

Got Impression of Key "This man appeared again several days later and again sang a ballad in which he told De Valera the rear exit of the prison was feasible for the attempt. He asked him to secure an impression of the key to the gate. The impression was secured.

The sentries about the rear of the prison were given notice to the escape. The committee tried to find girls in the neighborhood who could be employed to influence them. This attempt was given up, however, and a telegram was sent to Dublin for two handsome young women, both highly cultured university graduates, who arrayed themselves as shopgirls and entered the channel.

The girls deliberately set out to flirt with the soldiers and soon came to know most of the guards. De Valera was informed by code in a letter that the attempt was being made. The girls were taken to Dublin for two handsome young women, both highly cultured university graduates, who arrayed themselves as shopgirls and entered the channel.

THERE! THE SECRET'S OUT ABOUT MRS. WILSON'S HAT

"Eveque"—That's the Name of the Color Shade of the Paris Creation Worn by the President's Wife When She Arrived With the Country's Chief Executive From the Peace Conference

The secret is out. It's eveque! Yes, that's the proper name for the color shade of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's new hat, imported from Paris, which has caused a stir because no one, apparently, could figure just what was the color. It's not maroon and it isn't rose. It's a sort of cross between the two. Very, very, it's eveque.

No woman could return from Paris without at least one new and striking acquisition in the way of feminine apparel, and certainly the wife of a President could hardly resist the temptation to introduce a fashion novelty with the promise of its proving to be the season's drawing card.

So when Mrs. Wilson stepped ashore at Boston the other day, upon the presidential yacht, returning from France, every eye that belonged to a member of her own sex followed her as far as the striking color of her new Paris hat could be seen. And everybody wondered just how to classify the color. It was new, strange, irresistibly becoming and stirred the hearts of onlookers with a desire to have one exactly like it.

The secret of the color has just been revealed by a millinery buyer who appeared on board the Rochambeau after several months in Paris selecting dresses, hats and coats. It's eveque.

The very word conjures up tones of ecclesiastical brilliance which have not been heard since the fashionable Chestnut street throng, but which will generously sprinkle the great Easter parade.

Eveque threatens to be the favorite hat coloring for some time. There have been forerunners of this bright head-wear in the trim little turbans of rust color, henna and various other shades varying on purple, red and orange, but Mrs. Wilson has by cleverness or intuition selected the one that will outlive them all.

Competitive bidding between New York and Philadelphia bankers is expected to result in a high price for the $8,000,000 city bonds that Mayor Smith will offer for sale on Monday. Already an unusual number of banking concerns is prepared to submit proposals.

The bonds to be sold are thirty year, 4 1/2 per cent registered and coupon, due March 1, 1945. The last sale of bonds of this character was oversubscribed four times and good premiums resulted.

It was taken in its entirety by a New York syndicate of bankers. Eight hundred notices of the sale have been sent broadcast over the country, but it is expected the bidding will be confined largely to New York and Philadelphia. The $8,000,000 is made up of the usual balance of $1,000,000 of the city trust $8,000,000 loan of June 30, 1915, and $7,000,000 of the $42,460,757 loan authorized in June, 1918. The funds raised for the sale will be applied to the consolidated loan fund for expenditure during the spring and summer.

The Northland sailed at 10 o'clock from Pier 23, South Wharves, Washington, carrying 1500 men and 1000 horses. She is the ship that on February 21 arrived here with 1551 United States troops. She will return early in April with more troops.

The purser of the Northland is Major Geoffrey P. Rogers, who saw service at Ypres in the famous Fifty-fifth British Division. His regiment was cited for gallantry. He is the American officer who led the best soldiers in the war. The sailing list follows:

SCHOOL PAY RISE TO BE EXPEDITED

New Teachers' Salary Bill Will Be Before Legislature Next Week

SLIDING SCALE PROVIDED

Lower Paid and Rural Force Especially Are Benefited

Provisions of the new teachers' salary bill, which is to be introduced in the Legislature next week, have been agreed upon, according to Representative William T. Ramsey, of Chester. It will provide for a graduated scale instead of a flat increase of 25 per cent, which is provided in the measure now before the Legislature. It will supplant the former bill.

Among its provisions are: Raising the minimum salary of all teachers holding provisional certificates from $45 to $60 per month; teachers holding professional and normal certificates from $55 to $75 a month and those holding normal and certificate qualifications from $50 to $85 a month.

Rural teachers, in scattered districts, who handle all grades in one, two or three rooms, will receive an additional increase of $10 monthly, in conjunction with the minimum salary.

Teachers who receive up to $100 a month will get a boost of 25 per cent under the new bill; those receiving $100 to $150, 20 per cent; $150 to $200, 15 per cent, and 10 per cent for all above $200.

The state will pay 10 per cent of the increase and the local school districts must pay the remainder. An additional annual appropriation of $4,000,000 from the state will be necessary to care for the increase.

The state expects to supply its portion by paring expenses in other departments. From the State Highway Bureau about a reduction of $2,000,000 is expected to be made in the annual appropriation.

Legislative leaders plan quick action. Governor Sprawl is said to have agreed to the substitute and it is said to meet with general favor among teachers, as the scale is somewhat similar to the provisions of a bill which has been drafted by Prof. W. E. Zimmerman, assistant superintendent of the Dauphin County Schools.

Another bill will be introduced to care for proposed increases for Philadelphia school nurses.

BRITISH CHURCHMAN TO BE CITY'S VISITOR

Busy Program Awaits Archdeacon Greig, Guest of Bishop Rhinelander

The Venerable John Harold Greig, archdeacon of Worcester, England, was expected to arrive in Philadelphia late this afternoon. He will deliver several addresses here next week.

Archdeacon Greig will be the guest of Bishop Rhinelander, of the Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania, during his stay in Philadelphia. He came to America at the solicitation of a group of prominent Episcopal clergies.

Last week he spent in Washington as the guest of Bishop Harding. Tomorrow morning he will deliver a sermon to the students and faculty of the University of Pennsylvania in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Thirty-ninth and Locust streets. In the evening he will speak at Bryn Mawr College.

The archdeacon will preside over a conference of clergy of the diocese of Pennsylvania Monday morning in the Diocesan Church of St. Mary, Broad and South streets. On Tuesday, at 2:30, he will address a meeting of women war workers in Witherspoon Hall.

Archdeacon Greig will be the noon speaker in the church at 604 S. Jefferson Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Ash Wednesday evening he will deliver an address in the Church of St. Simon, Ninth street and Lehigh avenue.

TO SELECT SHIP'S NAME Liberty Loan Workers Also Will Decide Who Shall Be Sponsor

Advised that he has been given the honor of naming a vessel to be launched at one of the Eastern shipyards, Paul Jones, a prominent banker and chairman of the fourth Liberty Loan committee, southern district of Montgomery County, has accepted for a meeting of his colleagues on that committee and of the women workers, to be held in Jenkintown, to select the name of the ship and the sponsor.

"I won't take the responsibility alone," said the banker, yesterday. "Those who worked to give the district the record made in the last loan drive should, co-jointly, have credit for the matter of selection of ship name and sponsor."

An allotment of $1,865,500 was given the Southern Montgomery district. Total sales approximated $4,000,000, with an unusually large total of subscribers.

NEW REVOLUTION IN GERMANY NEAR

Scheidemann Resigns Post. Hunger Prevails—Soviet Martial Rule in Bavaria

ANARCHY LOOMING UP

Reds Declare Martial Law in Bavaria—Spartan Lose Dusseldorf

By the Associated Press London, March 1.—A further revolutionary movement in Germany is imminent, according to a report reaching London through the Netherlands today. It is added that Chancellor Scheidemann has resigned.

Ominous signs show a tendency toward anarchy in Germany, according to other dispatches. There is internal demoralization and dangerous growth of Bolshevism as the result of the lack of food and increase in unemployment. Discontent is growing and the people are hungry, neurotic and dispirited. If the Allies do not send food immediately there will be no Germany to deal with, as anarchy will prevail, says one correspondent.

Spartanists are planning another outbreak for March 5, a Berlin dispatch says. The Prussian Diet session, set for that date, has been postponed. A search for arms is being made in Berlin.

Paris, March 1.—(By A. P.)—The Soldiers and Workmen's Congress at Munich has declared martial law for all of Bavaria, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Matin.

The Munich council has discussed a constitution for Bavaria and declared that "for considerations of safety and by reason of the confused situation of the country, the Bavarian Diet is adjourned and the soldiers and workmen's assembly shall be known as the provisional national council until a new congress, which will be summoned later, meets." The soldiers and workmen's congress has assumed supreme powers, provisional national council exercising legislative functions.

Copenhagen, March 1.—(By A. P.)—Government troops entered Dusseldorf on Friday and occupied the railway stations and public buildings. Spartan leaders escaped and the town is quiet, according to Berlin advices received here.
